Storytelling for school, work and play

with Scott Davis

Why Storytelling?

Life

Life is what happens when your making plans...
...Stories remind us how true that is. Life never turns out the way we think and stories about life's experiences connect us and help us realize we are all in this together.

Lessons...

Lessons are what we learn along the way..
...Stories can teach us how to live. Stories give us hints on how to approach our own challenges and and become better people. It's easier to understand others when better know ourselves.

Laughter...

Laughter is good for the soul and helps us forget our troubles. Laughter brings people together. When we laugh, we're all the same, united in our humor.

So you like the idea of bringing in a storyteller but your not sure how it fits with your event, business needs or curriculum. Scott can create a program that's targeted to your audience.

For schools, Scott can enhance your History, Social Studies, English or Arts classes with a range of course specific programs.
